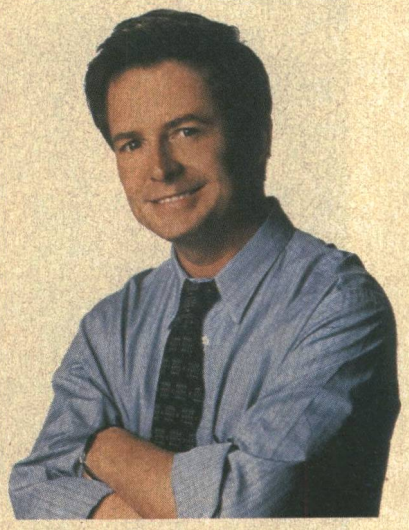
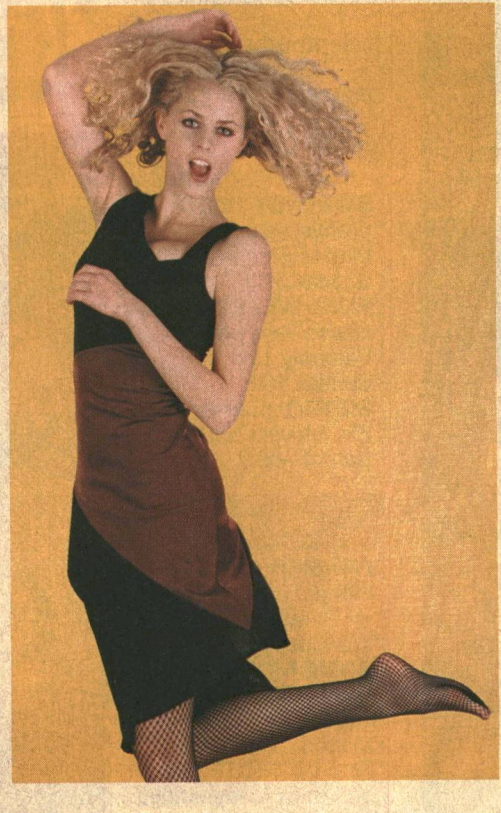
Norwegian-born Mariella Frostrup is among the presenters of Trailblazers, 13 one-hour travel films made in collaboration with the Royal Geographic Society. Three of the films receive their world TV premieres this month. In one of them, Frostrup visits Africa's youngest independent nation, Namibia, where she is deposited by light aircraft in the middle of the Namibian Desert, the oldest desert on the planet. She also visits the Etosha National Park where, guarded by armed game wardens and comprehensive insurance, she comes face to face with Brutalis the rhino, a famously irascible character and former resident of London Zoo.
Discovery, Sunday 16th, 8.00pm

Diminutive actor Michael J Fox stars in the new sitcom Spin City as the resourceful – some would say conniving – deputy mayor of New York, Michael Flaherty. In Britain, we still consider Fox to be principally a film actor, star of hits such as Back to the Future, but he originally made his name as whizz kid Alex Keaton in the successful NBC sitcom, Family Ties, which ran from 1982 to 1989. After focusing on movies for a few years, he has returned to the medium that made him famous, once again teaming up with Gary David Goldberg, the Spin City writer who created Family Ties. Clearly, Goldberg knows his stuff. In America, Spin City has won a Golden Globe award and received several Emmy nominations.
Paramount Comedy Channel, weeknights from Monday 3rd, 9.00pm

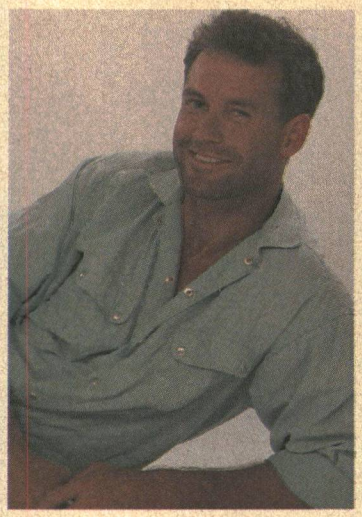




Singer, actress, model and MTV presenter Donna Air has crammed a lot into her young life (she turns 19 on 2 August) since making her modelling debut aged two. Her latest project is a wacky game show, The Cooler, in which she plays host to three contestants who face questions loosely based on Nineties pop culture. For example, who can name three Bob Holness catch-phrases? And who, blindfolded, can tell between a sex aid and a vacuum cleaner nozzle? In contrast, Air can be seen again this year in Supply and Demand, Lynda La Plante's ITV drama series.
Challenge, weeknights from Monday 24th, 10.00pm
(Challenge is not available in all areas)

The influence of American talk shows has been felt in Britain for years. The Simon Dee Show, back in the Sixties, owed its existence to BBC Head of Variety Bill Cotton's huge admiration for Jack Paar, who hosted The Tonight Show from 1957 to 1962. Paar was succeeded by Johnny Carson, whose true heir as king of late-night television became David Letterman. Here, Jonathan Ross, Danny Baker, Clive Anderson and more recently Jack Docherty are among those who have tried, with varying success, to clone part or all of the format that has made The Late Show with David Letterman an American institution. 'It's not so surprising,' Cotton tells me. 'Americans have always had a dominant role in British entertainment, going back to when people went to the cinema three times a week to see American films. They're just very, very inventive.' That invention currently includes the 'guess the pies' item, in which Letterman invites his audience to guess what kind of pies his mother Dorothy has made that day, then calls to find out.
Paramount Comedy Channel, weeknights, 12midnight

sultan of spin and ed – all in August



Aussie actor Gary Sweet, who plays Chris Manning in Carlton Select's high-flying drama series Big Sky, has a sporting confession that may draw scorn from some of his countrymen. He takes a keen interest in soccer, which many down under regard as vastly inferior to their own version of football, Australian rules. The sports mad former schoolteacher's screen credits include Bodyline, the mini series about the infamous Australia v England cricket series, in which he played the legendary Donald Bradman. Sweet enjoys surfing, golf and having a flutter on the horses, but when he comes to England he likes nothing more than going down the pub and watching the football. 'I always have a terrific time when I'm there,' he says. So what's his verdict on the English effort in France 98? 'I think Glenn Hoddle made a terrible mistake dropping Gazza – he's a genius. But I really wanted to see England do well.'
Carlton Select, Mondays, 10.00pm

In Inside The X-Files, Chris Carter, creator of The X-Files, joins actors David Duchovny and Gillian Anderson to discuss the origins, characters and mythology of the fabulously successful series. X-philes will be particularly fascinated to hear them discuss the role of the Cigarette Smoking Man, who has been turned into something of a cult icon by actor William B Davis. Other topics include Gillian Anderson's pregnancy, chip implants in Scully's neck, the relationship between Mulder and Scully, and the alien bounty hunter. And, best of all, actor Mitch Pileggi, who plays Skinner, introduces a segment featuring X-Files outtakes.
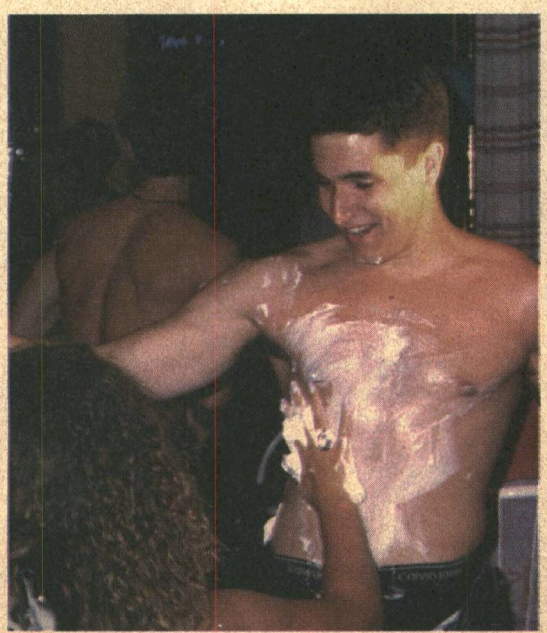
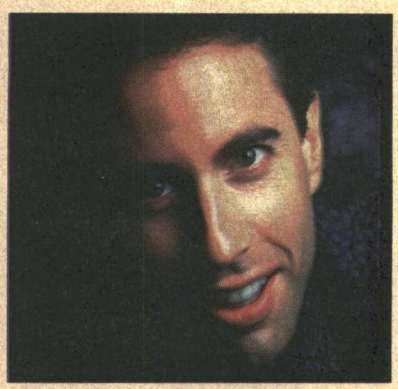
Sky One, Sunday 16th, 8.00pm



Radio One DJ Lisa I'Anson provides the commentary for Greece Uncovered, as she did for the previous hits in the series, Ibiza Uncovered and Caribbean Uncovered. I'Anson is a fitting narrator for such a globetrotting series, for she has plenty of cosmopolitan influences. Her father is Danish, her mother Ghanaian, her husband is half-Dutch, half-Brazilian and she grew up in Africa and England. She also spent a year in Trinidad, 'but my mum brought me back to London when I started speaking a kind of West Indian patois.' Greece Uncovered focuses on the islands of Corfu and Mykonos and is every bit as saucy as its predecessors, except with ouzo fuelling the debauchery rather than sangria or rum.
Sky One, from Sunday 9th, 10.00pm



Just as the wailing and gnashing of teeth begins to die down in America following transmission of the final episode of Seinfeld in May, the final series of the hit sitcom gets under way in Britain (from Thursday 20th). I wouldn't want to spoil it for anyone but, having negotiated the ridiculously tight security to see a rehearsal, I can report that in one episode Jerry has an affair with his maid. Incidentally, Jerry Seinfeld turned down $5million per episode to make one more series after this one. Which is perhaps less of a sacrifice than it sounds – even on a measly $1million per episode, he is said to have earned more than $65million in 1997 alone.
Sky One, Thursdays, 8.30pm

On Saturday nights in August, actor Robert Powell narrates five more episodes of the acclaimed documentary series Century of Warfare. The first, Sand and Sea War, examines the war in the Mediterranean between 1941 and 1944. Hitler Turns East describes the German conflict in Russia. The Long Road Back concentrates on the siege of Leningrad and the German retreat from Russia. Normandy to the Rhine looks at the Allied forces sweeping towards Germany and The End in Europe shows how the German war effort finally ended.

If you've ever been hooked on a US crime show, there's a good chance that Steven Bochco is the man behind it. Interview: Neil Murray

Top of the cops

UK Gold

NYPD Blue
From Tuesday 18th 10.30pm

YOU'D think Steven Bochco would be sick of cop shows and programmes about law offices by now. From Hill Street Blues, through LA Law, NYPD Blue, Murder One and the ill-fated Cop Rock, to his most recent offering, Brooklyn South, the New York-born writer-producer has done his fair share of mixing it with the right side of the long arm of the law. Yet NYPD Blue, the Emmy Award-winning show which starts a run from scratch on UK Gold this month, still holds a fascination for him.

'When you do a television show you try to anticipate three or four or five years of stories,' he explains.

'You're talking about a hundred hours of programming, and police dramas, legal dramas and medical dramas – because they tend to deal with life and death situations – are ideally suited for TV exploration.

'To me, a police drama is just another form of a law show and what fascinates me more than anything, in terms of storytelling, is the law.'

Bochco cut his teeth as a scriptwriter on a number of cop shows in the Seventies, before breaking new ground in the early Eighties with Hill Street Blues. A winner of eight Emmy awards, it also established his name as an innovative writer and producer.

'The two shows I've done over the years that really shifted the way people look at television, or listen to it, were Hill Street Blues and NYPD Blue,' he says.

'From day one on NYPD Blue we had the desire to push the limits, to hear and see a TV drama in a way that had never been seen or heard before. I didn't want to do it if I couldn't do it that way.'

Bochco likes to use actors he knows, and James Sikking, a regular from Hill Street Blues, features in Brooklyn South, which was recently shown on Sky One.

'When you find somebody really special you want to work with them again,' he says. 'Creatively, you find yourself developing a shorthand with them.

'When it comes to creating characters, most of the time they come first and the casting follows. But occasionally we think specifically about somebody and tailor a role for that actor.

'We certainly did that with Dennis Franz on NYPD Blue. We hired him before we even wrote the script.'

Currently working on the latest series of NYPD Blue, Bochco has no new plans that he is prepared to talk about.

'I sort of decided I would skip a year in terms of developing new stuff,' he says.

'I was hoping Brooklyn South was going to come back, but unfortunately it wasn't renewed in the States.'

Still, if his past record is anything to go by, there is plenty to look forward to.

YOU'LL BE SEEING MORE OF
JASON PRIESTLEY

FOR eight years he's played golden boy Brandon Walsh in Beverly Hills, 90210. Now Jason Priestley is making it big in the movies, where his co-stars on the show, like Shannen Doherty and Luke Perry, have so far failed.

AGE: 28

BIG BREAK: Jason rose to fame as clean-cut heartthrob Brandon Walsh in Beverly Hills, 90210.

BIG MISTAKE: Calendar Girl, a 1993 film set in the Sixties about three boys who go on a quest to meet Marilyn Monroe. Priestley 'delivers dialogue with all the passion of a dead leaf', said one critic.

HE SAYS: 'I started Beverly Hills, 90210 when I was 21. I have acted in 274 episodes, executive produced 115 and directed 20. I think I've done my bit. Now I feel OK to pursue films and be done with TV.'

FORTHCOMING ATTRACTIONS: Love and Death on Long Island, currently screening in UK cinemas. Priestley stars alongside John Hurt in this offbeat film about a man obsessed by a young actor. Priestley jokes: 'The character I play has a career making bad movies. I didn't have to do a lot of research.' But the film could be the beginning of a successful big-screen career – he is set to star in a Eye of the Beholder with Brit sensation, Ewan McGregor.

HIS FINAL WORD: 'I don't ever try to second-guess what people want from me. I do projects that interest and inspire me. That's really the only way you can have successful films.'

SEE HIM IN ACTION: In Beverly Hills, 90210 this month, Brandon's squeaky clean image is tarnished when he is arrested (Saturday 29th).

Voted number one by Cable Guide readers, football's favourite motormouth, Andy Gray, is looking forward to the new season. Jane Oddy found him relaxing on the golf course before the big kick-off. Photographs: Martin Salter

Shades of Gray

ANDY GRAY talks now with the same passion that inspired his brilliant goals at Dundee United, Wolves, Aston Villa, Everton, West Brom, Glasgow Rangers and Scotland. But even he will admit that commentating is not the same as being on the pitch and hearing the crowd roaring his name. 'I miss playing more than anything because, for as long as I can remember, all I ever wanted to do was play football,' he says. 'The feeling of running out on the pitch is a bit like being a gladiator – you're going to do battle against 11 other people and the best and bravest are going to come out on top.'

Sky TV's biggest soccer pundit is in his element. A golf fanatic, he is relaxing in Riley's Bar at the famous Belfry resort in Warwickshire, talking about his love of soccer and, in recent years, his career as a football commentator.

'TV has been a really good substitute for me. Live television is hairy and gives you that adrenaline rush. Sometimes when I come off air after three or four hours, I feel mentally drained the way I did when I was playing football,' he reflects.

Glaswegian Andy, 42, has become such a huge television personality that he recently fronted a TV ad for Snickers chocolate bar. The ad is an affectionate mickey-take for someone who, to his own surprise, has become something of a living legend.

It isn't hard to understand why. Gray isn't afraid to show his passion for the game and can make even the dullest match seem interesting, with an in-depth knowledge of modern football tactics that equals any FA coach. He does it with an infectious joy that has seen him pick up a clutch of broadcasting awards – in 1996 he won the Variety Club's Media Personality of the Year award and last year he was chosen as the Royal Television Society's Sports Presenter of the Year. This season, readers voted him Favourite Sports Presenter at the Cable Guide Cable TV Awards.

'I've always liked TV and never been fazed when someone stuck a camera in my face,' he says. 'And I've had no trouble talking, as anyone who knows me will tell you. I try to be myself. Maybe that's the secret – in TV, if you're not yourself and being false, people spot that.'

And he gets little stick from players or managers: 'It's a popular misconception that I'm critical of individuals. I'm not – I can offer opinions and I try to be constructive.'

While his professional life has been gilded, he is the first to admit that his personal life has been more chequered. 'I don't think I'm that good at relationships, I accept that,' says Andy, who has four children by three different women.

But he has calmed down and now lives very happily with his partner Sara in Sutton Coldfield, just a stone's throw from The Belfry. The couple knew each other 20 years ago in Birmingham and had a son, Jamie, now 18. Yet they split up and only met again five years ago. In the meantime, both had been married and divorced twice.

Andy is devoted to his children and says his six-year-old daughter, Sophie, was one of the main reasons he turned down the chance to manage Everton last year.

'I was flattered when they offered me the job. But I've got a routine where I see Sophie every other weekend, and it's an important time for me. Becoming a manager would have posed huge problems.'

This is a man with very little left to prove. In his playing days he won 20 Scottish caps and is widely considered one of the bravest British players of the past two decades. But could management still lure him back to the touchlines? 'I would be lying if I said I wouldn't be tempted again. I never say never. Who knows what will happen? My contract at Sky lasts until 2001. After that, I don't know.'

He considers himself lucky still to be doing a job he loves. 'If it all collapsed tomorrow I can say, "What an eight years I've had." It's been a wonderful ride.'

● Live football coverage starts on Sky Sports with the Nationwide League on Sunday 9th, followed by the English Premier League and Scottish Premier Division on Sunday 16th. See page 10 for a list of the live fixtures.

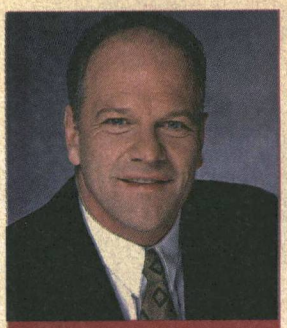
Sky's live Matches



Andy Gray looks ahead

'I'm looking forward to next season because I think the Premiership will be bigger and better than it's ever been. There are signs that more top players will be coming in from abroad, and a lot of players from the World Cup will be in the Premiership next year – and that's a great prospect for me and the fans. It's arguably the most exciting time of all post World Cup and I can't wait to get my teeth into it.

'Who do I fancy for the championship? You're asking the worst tipster. I predicted Newcastle last season but they were dreadful and had a terrible time. I'd like to see Everton win, but they won't. But I'll keep a close eye on them and also Aston Villa, who have got a better chance of being there. It's got to be between five teams – Manchester United, Arsenal, Chelsea, Liverpool and maybe Leeds or Blackburn. They've all got a chance.

'I'd pay to watch Alan Shearer if I wasn't doing the job I'm doing because he's the best, and Michael Owen because he's going to be the next superstar of British football. And, of course, Dennis Bergkamp – he was the best Premiership player last season.'

'Me, sexy? Just rate me as OK'

She's been voted the most desirable woman in the world, but Cameron Diaz would prefer to be known for her acting. IVAN WATERMAN discovers a model success

FUNNY and deadly. Cute and cuddly. That's what they say about Cameron Diaz, the babe whose stunning entrance in The Mask left Jim Carrey's character with his tongue literally lolling on the table. Since making her debut in that blockbuster three years ago, the former model has even been voted 'the most desirable woman in the world'. Mention this and she slips straight into teenage girlie mode.

'Get out of here!' she says, throwing her arms skywards in mock embarrassment. 'I promise you, I never think of myself in that manner. Look, if you have teams of make-up artists, hair stylists and the right lighting, you can work wonders on anybody. I'm not putting myself down, but I'm really not a raving beauty in the contemporary sense. I'm supposed to be this bombshell. Well, in The Mask my boobs were propped up bigger than I have ever seen them.' She pauses and grins. 'But me, sexy? Just rate me as OK. Maybe a bit better than OK. That sounds good.'

Blonde, blue-eyed Diaz could easily have fouled up badly. After making front covers as Carrey's lust interest in The Mask, she made a string of movies that went almost completely unnoticed. This month, though, she's in the premiere of Edward Burns's She's the One, in which she outshines Friends icon Jennifer Aniston.

Burns also starred in She's the One, a romantic comedy about three brothers struck down by sibling rivalry when they get involved with three girls. Burns plays Mickey, a cab driver who is entangled in an on-off relationship with Hope (Maxine Bahns), while his high-flying brother, Francis (Mike McGlone), is struggling to stay married to his college sweetheart played by Jennifer Aniston.

Interestingly enough, Diaz emerged from She's the One with better notices than Aniston. She is honest enough to admit she needed to gain as much experience as she could after her appearance in The Mask.

'I decided I really wanted to make the move from modelling to acting,' she says. 'I didn't think it would make sense to do any film that came along. But The Mask gave me the chance to meet some pretty important people and the chance to go away and make some movies which probably wouldn't attract too much attention. They would also give me the opportunity to learn something about acting. I knew I was taking something of a risk because there were some big scripts on the table. But I didn't want to mess up. I still think I did the right thing.'

Too true. Danny Boyle and his Trainspotting squad rated her highly enough to snap her up to play a rich man's spoilt daughter alongside Ewan McGregor in the smart, breezy A Life Less Ordinary. And there was even better to come as she shared the glory with Julia Roberts, Rupert Everett and Dermot Mulroney as the would-be bride with everything to fear in the mega-smash My Best Friend's Wedding.

Diaz is pure mid-American in terms of class, money and style. Her mother is a former broker, of German origin, while her father – an oil company foreman – is second generation Cuban-American. She grew up in California, where she adored her collection of pets, including a couple of snakes. At 16 she became a model and travelled the world. 'It's essentially a little like acting,' she insists. 'You're acting out a part when you model clothes. You're trying to create an image and that helps you when you get in front of a movie camera.'

She lives with fellow actor Matt Dillon in West Hollywood. They met briefly in a hotel lift in Minneapolis when he was filming Beautiful Girls and she was making Feeling Minnesota.

'I was standing there thinking, "Wow … what can I say?"' she recalls with a smile. 'We hardly said anything to each other. In fact, we hardly made eye contact. I think we were both trying to be so cool. My knees were actually trembling! I never forgot him but he didn't call me for a year. So I must have made a big impression, right, depending on which way you look at it. He never got me out of his system either!'

As for wedding plans, all she'll say is, 'I love Matt incredibly. He is a great guy. Very intelligent, kind, warm and sensitive. My folks are still married after 30 years together and neither of them are 50 yet. So I guess it can work. We shall see.'

King of comedy

With the hit film 'Bean', Rowan Atkinson finally won international acclaim. But who is the man behind the rubbery mask? Ivan Waterman investigates

Sky Box Office 3
Channel 53
This is a movies on-demand service. For ordering details, see pages 18-19

Bean
Starts Wednesday 12th

HE'S dopey, wears crumpled sports jackets and is most definitely not the kind of guest you would want at your dinner table. But there are few hotter comedy-movie properties around than Mr Bean.

The film Bean was a worldwide success when it was released last year. When the pounds – 150 million of them in total – were counted at the box office, only Four Weddings and a Funeral and The Full Monty fared better in the league of smash-hit British movies.

And so questions were asked about the new king of comedy, the man many believe is the most brilliant post-war entertainer produced by Britain. Is farmer's son Rowan Sebastian Atkinson the new Charlie Chaplin? And how closely does he resemble his lunatic alter-ego Mr Bean? One thing is certain: he need never work again.

But not only is he our highest-paid comedy star, he is also the Invisible Man of show business. And, in typically enigmatic fashion, while his fans clamour for more, he is currently taking a year off. There are even rumours that there might never be a Bean movie sequel or another Bean TV show, and the BBC isn't sure whether he'll be turning up at the cop shop for a new series of the sitcom The Thin Blue Line.

Atkinson is rarely seen in public. At his Oxfordshire retreat, a converted Victorian rectory, he lives quietly with his wife Sunetra and his two children. So what does make him tick?

The roots of Rowan take us to Hole Row Farm in County Durham, near Consett, a 400-acre spread where he was raised with his brothers Rupert and Rodney.

'The money Rowan has made doesn't lessen his hunger for success,' says Rodney, the eldest of the brothers. 'He doesn't have to work but money isn't important to him. He is a very normal person – and a genius.'

Bean was a remarkable turnaround for Atkinson, who had previously made little impression on the big screen.

The film sees the loony Mr Bean jetting off to sunny California. There he is mistakenly greeted as an art expert by the trustees of a museum, who are left helpless as he wrecks their latest exhibition. For accommodation, he gets to stay with one of the museum's executives – and destroys his marriage.

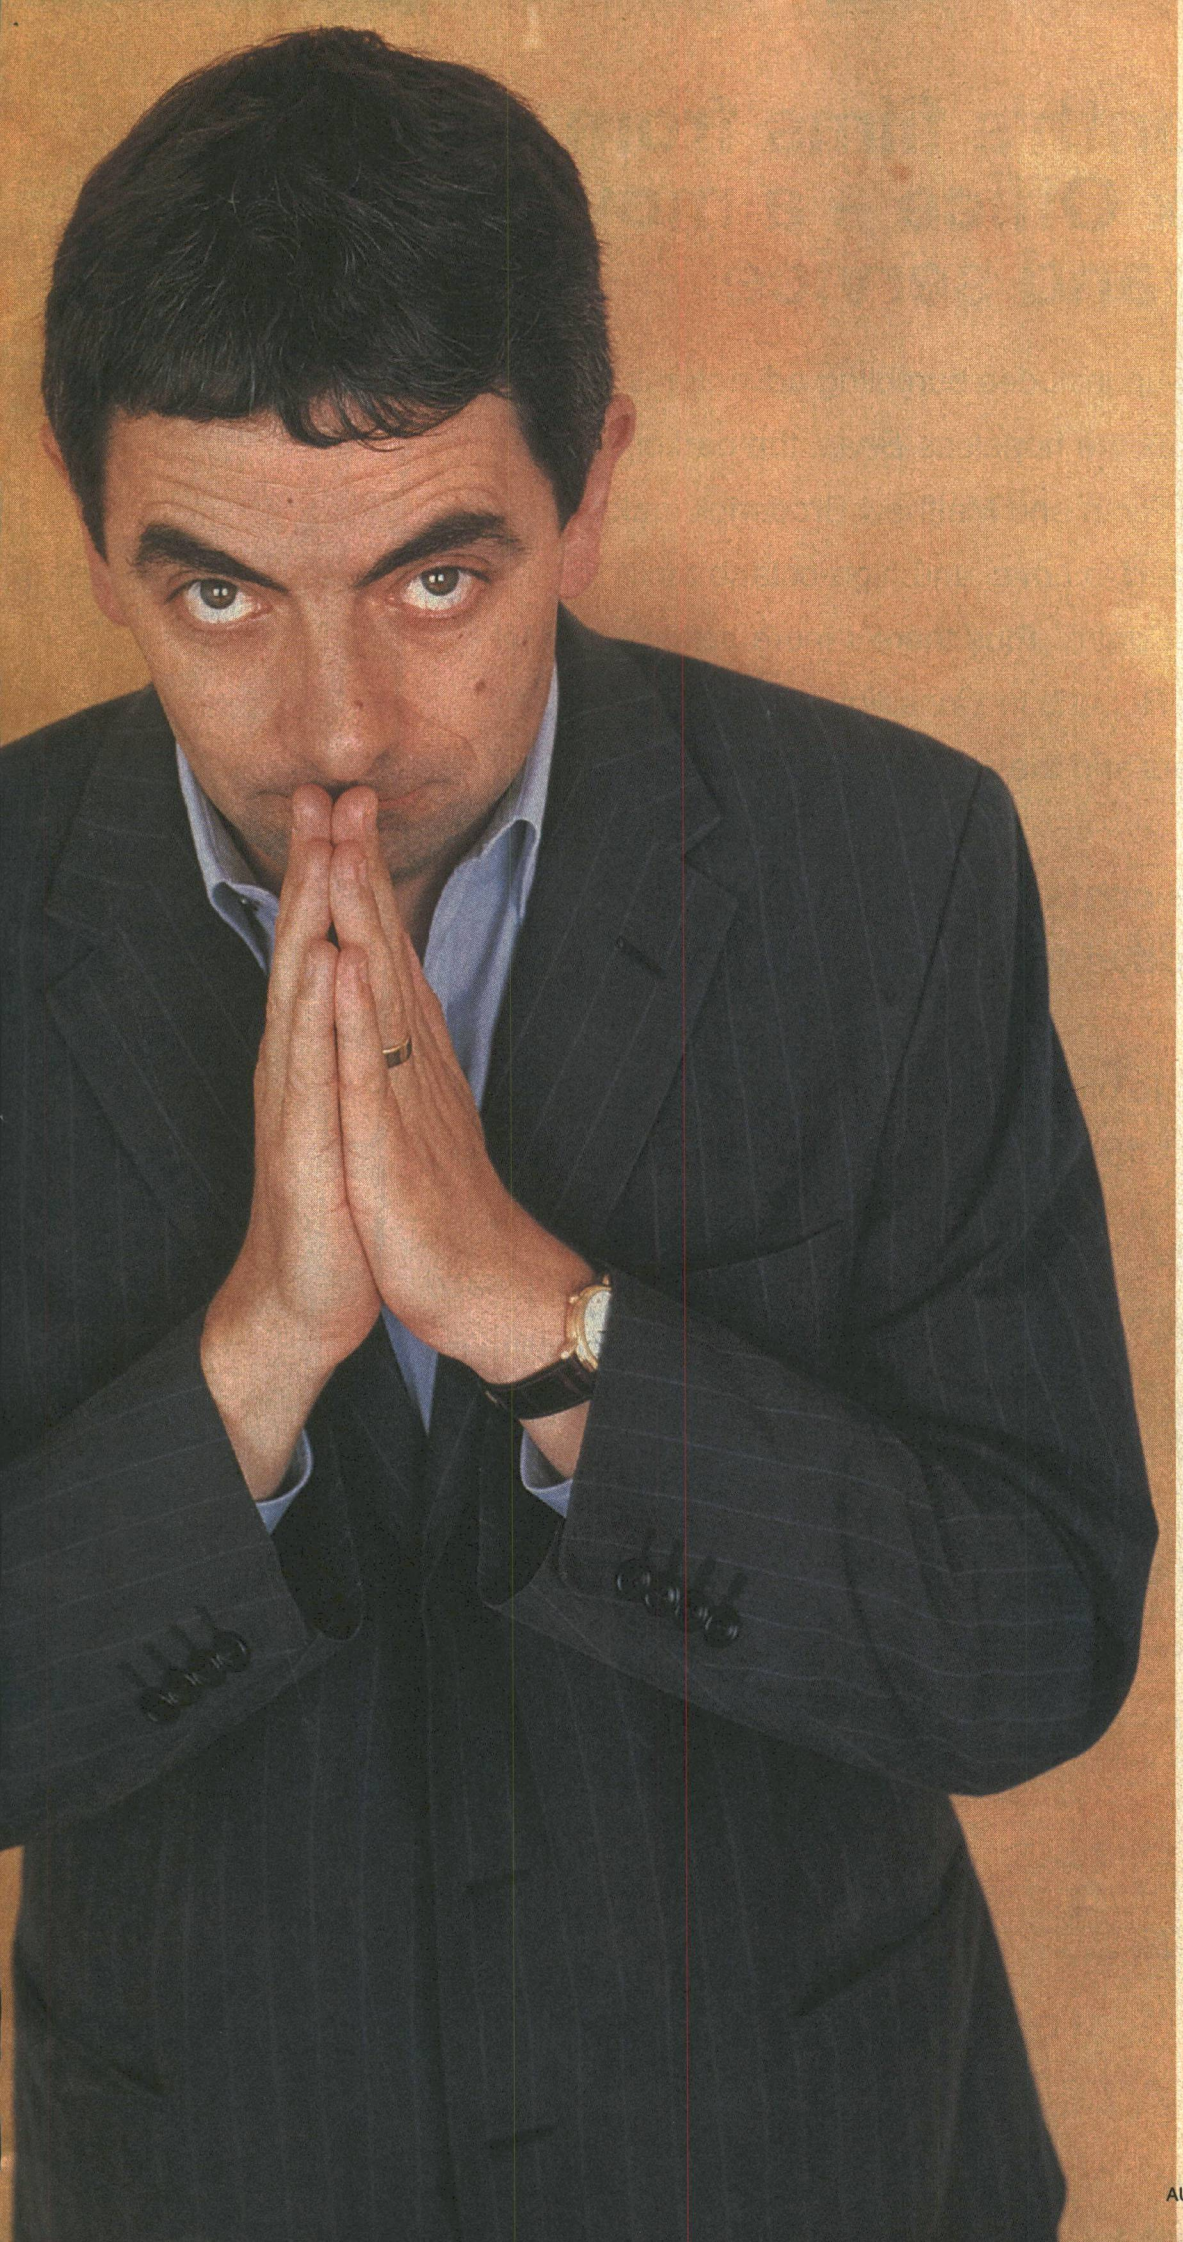
'We did have to change Bean slightly for the movie,' says Atkinson. 'Normally the custard pie would end up on somebody else's face, never his, and he'd just walk away from the scene and never go back there again.

'But Bean causes great hurt and pain to one family in the film, and you definitely see him regretting that and showing humanity. He wants to make amends. That's a side to him nobody has seen before. He's still as bad and selfish as he always was, but there's just a hint of humanity shining through.'

Despite the success of Bean, Atkinson is modest and tends to avoid the limelight. He conducts readings at the village church and quietly works on behalf of several charities. He's not a flashy dresser and refuses to join showbiz set gatherings or mimic his crazed anti-hero Blackadder for strangers.

'Sometimes I honestly wonder what I'm doing in showbusiness,' he confides. 'I'm just not the type. Half of me is shy – even dull. People who meet me for the first time leave thinking, "What a miserable git."' I hate telling jokes and I can't perform at parties.

'It's so alien to my nature



because I am a cautious chap. All most people seem to want from me is bloody silly faces. And if there's one thing I hate about myself it's my face. When I look in the mirror, what I really see is just a solitary chap fighting against his anxieties.'

His manager says simply: 'Privacy is everything to him; he is reserved and very English. He sees no need to get out there and go on an ego trip.'

Private though he may be, Atkinson has never shied away from the business of making money. In the Eighties, he formed the production company Tiger Aspect with Peter Bennett-Jones and former LWT producer Charles Brand. A hugely successful venture, it has been the guiding force behind his workload. Last year, Atkinson was reportedly Britain's highest paid actor, earning £11.25m.

And Mr Bean has been phenomenally successful – shown in 94 countries and generating video sales of over seven million units.

The final word rests with Atkinson's close friend Stephen Fry.

'It is as if God had an extra jar of comic talent and, for a joke, gave it to a nerdy anoraked Northern chemist,' he says dryly.

'But funny? No. That's something he wouldn't claim to be at all.'

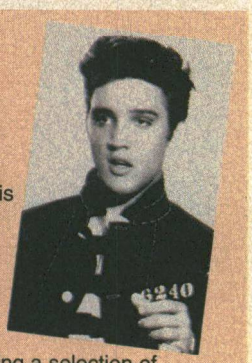
WIN ELVIS PRESLEY'S GREATEST HITS!



TNT Classic Movies pays tribute to Elvis Presley on the anniversary of his death this month when it shows the Elvis Weekender on August 15-16. TNT Classic Movies and RCA Records have put together an exclusive package known as the Elvis Essentials and ten Cable Guide readers have the chance to win Blue Suede Shoes – the ultimate Elvis rock 'n' roll collection – and Always on My Mind, a collection of Elvis's great love songs.

During the Elvis Weekender, TNT Classic Movies is showing a selection of top Elvis films, including Jailhouse Rock (pictured), Viva Las Vegas and It Happened at the World's Fair, complete with a number of the original trailers. There's also an exclusive interview with David Stanley, Elvis's stepbrother, as he talks about life on set during the making of many of the films. If you're a fan of Elvis's music and films, this weekend will definitely leave you all shook up.

To enter, just answer the following question, on a postcard to reach us by 31 August:
IN WHICH YEAR DID ELVIS DIE?

Send your entry to: ELVIS Competition, Cable Guide, 172 Tottenham Court Road, London W1P 0JJ. The first ten correct entries drawn at random will win. Usual rules apply.

SCREEN TRENDS

Fancy a stake in the future? Hollywood still fills its coffers thanks to the spiritual inspiration of novelist Bram Stoker. IVAN WATERMAN unearths the undead coming your way in August

DRACULA: DEAD AND LOVING IT

Anything George Hamilton could do as Drac in Love at First Bite, the totally manic Leslie Nielsen, fresh from his success in The Naked Gun series, could do so much better. Who else but Mel Brooks could have been responsible for this daft film in which Nielsen's Prince of Darkness blunders his way after an English rose, played by Amy Yasbeck? On his trail is the legendary Dr Van Helsing, played by none other than ... Brooks (above) himself! Lysette Anthony keeps a straight face and tries to guard her blood vessels as Lucy. A must in bad taste.

THE FEARLESS VAMPIRE KILLERS

Underrated, offbeat and deliberately campy spoof of vampire films. The late, lamented Hollywood starlet Sharon Tate gets herself kidnapped by villains with fangs. To her rescue comes wizard vampire trackers Jack MacGowran and Tate's real-life hubby Roman Polanski (who also wrote and directed). To date, the only Drac movie with a Jewish bloodsucker. Watch out for the line 'Boy, have you got the wrong vampire' when a maiden thrusts a crucifix at him. The Count's gay vampire son chases Polanski across the ramparts and wants him for more than just blood! Brilliant.
TNT SATURDAY 22ND

VAMPIRE JOURNALS

And now for something completely serious. Can this be? An updated version of the Drac yarn about a centuries-old vampire with a mere mortal's heart determined to rid the world of the undead. He tracks down the most powerful remaining demon to where else but Transylvania. Here, he must temper his own thirst for blood to destroy his nemesis. Jonathan Morris stars, while Ted Nicolaou directs. Nothing too nasty happens, sadly.
SKY MOVIES SCREEN 1 THURSDAY 13TH

FRIGHT NIGHT

Really excellent dark comedy specially aimed at the teen market, from director Tom Holland. Suburban youngster Charley (played by William Ragsdale) suspects that his smooth but sinister neighbour (Chris Sarandon) descends from Count Vlad's line. He has a chum (an absolutely superb piece of comedic acting from Jonathan Stark) and a pretty girl (Amanda Bearse) in his anti-Drac squad. Veteran Hollywood star Roddy McDowall, host of a fictional scary TV show, tags along.
SKY MOVIES GOLD TUESDAY 18TH

NADJA

Another modern, fresh and often hilarious look at the vampire phenomenon, with issues such as family ties, the power of your home and AIDS entering the fray. Elina Löwensohn plays Nadja, daughter of the recently deceased Count. She's tired of nightly bloodletting and wants to change her ways. Hanging out in New York's East Village, she falls for Lucy (played by Galaxy Craze), whose husband just happens to have good old Drac killer Van Helsing for an uncle. Peter Fonda is the hero of the piece. A top-notch support cast of Suzy Amis, Martin Donovan and Jared Harris move things along nicely. Watch out for a cameo from producer David Lynch. Plenty of bark and bite.

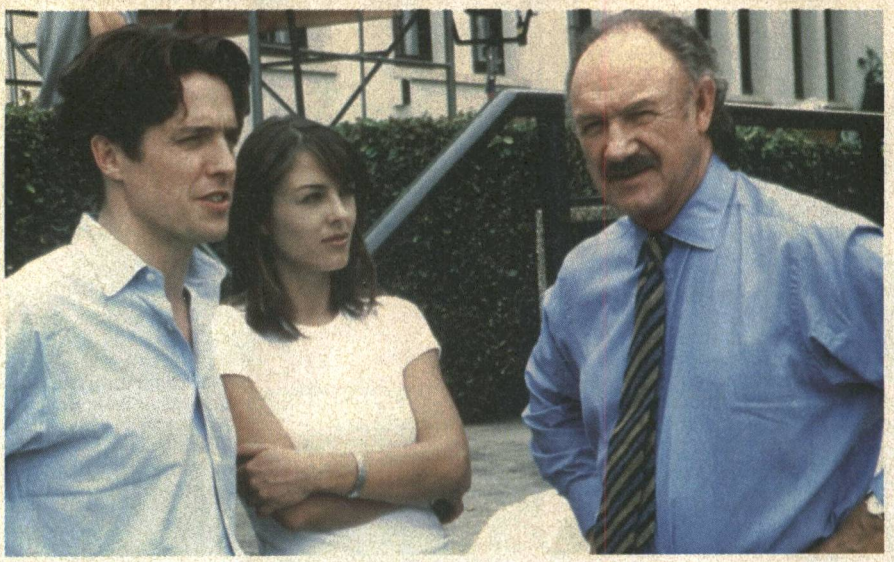
Saturday 1 August – Friday 7 August



CRITICAL CONDITION

HUGH GRANT has to take some Extreme Measures in the premiere of a thriller set in a New York hospital. He plays Guy Luthan, an idealistic British doctor who uncovers a covert operation after the dead body of a patient he was trying to save mysteriously disappears from the hospital. The good doctor's investigation leads him to eminent surgeon Lawrence Myrick (Gene Hackman), who could be very bad for Hugh's health. Elizabeth Hurley (pictured with the two stars) co-produced the movie.

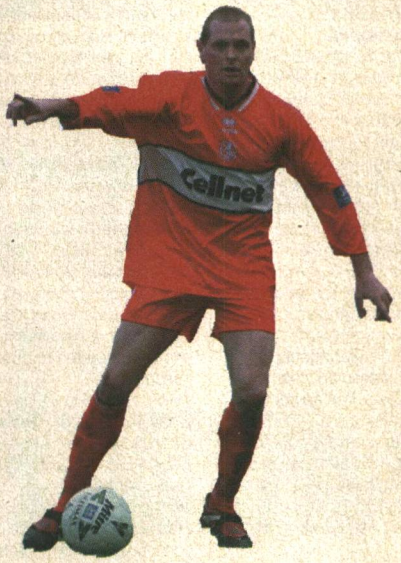
SAINTS AND WINNERS

SOME girl bands we could mention have lost a bit of spice in recent times, but All Saints have no such problems. The winners of this year's Brit Award for Best Single (with Never Ever) have established themselves as the queens of UK pop and the fab four – Shaznay, Melanie, Nicky and Natalie – reveal the secrets of their success in a frank interview with MTV's Zane Lowe. The All Saints Special also contains exclusive clips from the US remake of the Never Ever video.
MTV Tuesday 4th 6.00pm



A WANTED MAN

GLENN HODDLE may not have needed him, but Middlesbrough manager Bryan Robson definitely won't be regarding Paul Gascoigne as surplus to requirements. Boro's pre-season game against Benfica will be a good indication of Gazza's fitness.

SPORT

AXA Life League Cricket – LIVE
Sky Sports 1 5.00pm

This is the way to watch cricket: in the evening when we can get home from work! It's taken the authorities long enough to get around to it, but the clubs are determined to make day-night games succeed, just like they have done in Australia. Tonight's action is from the Oval, where Charles Colvile presents Surrey against Sussex. Neither team is tearing up trees this season, so it should be a well-matched contest over 40 overs with the likes of Surrey's Adam and Ben Hollioake and Sussex's Chris Adams to keep our attention.

Sky Sports Classics
Sky Sports 3 2.00pm
Football really doesn't get any more exciting than when Liverpool and Everton drew 4-4 in the FA Cup in 1991, and you can relive that magical Mersey match today. This was the game, of course, which led to Kenny Dalglish's (temporary) retirement from the game, the Liverpool boss citing pressure as the chief reason for spending more time with his golf clubs. Watching this pulsating game from Goodison Park, it's not difficult to see what he meant. Look out for a wonder goal by John Barnes. Great stuff.

SPORT

Wentworth Seniors Masters
Sky Sports 2 10.00am

Seniors' golf has the attractions of the sport 20 years ago (players actually smiling and conversing with the crowds!) and enough skill to make us amateurs green with envy. This title will be fought out on the Edinburgh Course at Wentworth, with £150,000 in prize money. Gary Player won last year and probably won't be far from having his hands on the winner's cheque again. If you're after another five hours of the sport, then stay tuned for action from the du Maurier Classic and Golf Extra, which wraps up all the tour news.

Tonight is the British Grand Prix from the Brandon circuit in Coventry. Americans and Scandinavians dominate the sport and Sweden's Tony Rickardsson is a possible winner, but don't rule out the Brit, Chris Louis.

MURPHY'S LAW

EDDIE MURPHY is no stranger to playing maverick police officers. After all, his Axel Foley character in the Beverly Hills Cop trilogy established him as a Hollywood star. So it's a return to familiar territory when he plays top San Francisco hostage negotiator Scott Roper in Metro. After his mentor and partner is killed by vindictive jewel thief Michael Korda (played by Michael Wincott), Eddie becomes obsessed with bringing the murderer to justice. Hindering his chances of success are a new rookie partner, Kevin McCall (Michael Rapaport), and persistent feelings for his former girlfriend, Ronnie (Carmen Ejogo), who has recently left him for a basketball player.
Eddie, who can also be seen in cinemas this month talking to the animals in Doctor Dolittle, is sure to end up with more than he bargained for.

ON THE BREADLINE

HOUSEHOLD appliances spring to life and get very animated in the British television premiere of The Brave Little Toaster to the Rescue. The fearless gang, including Toaster, Lampy, Blanky, Radio and Kirby, were first seen in 1987 in The Brave Little Toaster. This sequel sees the appliances follow their beloved master, Rob, to a southern university where he is a student of veterinary medicine. Although Rob is dedicated to helping needy stray animals, his assistant seems to be up to no good. Time for Toaster and friends to apply themselves to the job in hand!

CHARITY BEGINS AT ... WEMBLEY

NOW WE'VE had a month to get over the disappointment of England's World Cup exit to Argentina on penalties and Scotland's demise in France, it's time for nine more months of passionate Premiership action. Things kick off with the FA Charity Shield, the traditional curtain-raiser to the season at Wembley. Arsenal won the Double last season, of course, so their opponents today are the Premiership's runners-up, Manchester United. Ray Parlour (left) was one of the surprise packages last season, and he'll be looking to eclipse United's England star, Paul Scholes (right) in midfield. Charity will be the last thing on their minds.

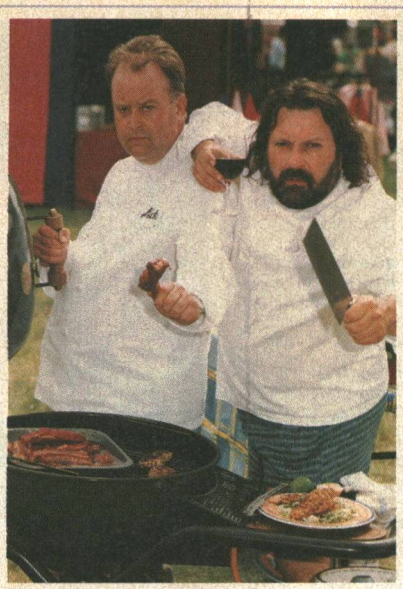
BBQ Weekend
Saturday 15th – Sunday 16th



The Nosh Brothers make you an offer you can't refuse on 'Red Hot 'N' Smokin', while Mridula Baljekar tells you how to make these delicious tandoori king prawns (right)

THRILLS AND GRILLS!

AS THE sun belatedly takes its hat off, a weekend of programmes offers timely advice on how to create your own perfect barbecue. And if your idea of barbecue food is sausages as black as coal and defrosted burgers, prepare to have your tastebuds tickled.

The key ingredient to the BBQ Weekend is Red Hot 'N' Smokin', on Saturday 15th and Sunday 16th at 12.30pm. The Nosh Brothers (pictured) aim to hot up your summer with delicate fish dishes, roasted vegetables and succulent meats. Cajun chicken, tuna steaks with orange and chilli marinade, and mango salad are just some of the treats on the menu.

Even more refined fare is on offer in Picnics & Barbecues (Saturday 15th, 10.30pm), when top Northern Ireland chefs Paul and Jeanne Rankin offer some top suggestions – such as butterflied leg of lamb, salmon and courgette kebabs, grilled shellfish and stuffed baked pears – for a breathtaking barbecue. Similarly cultured cuisine is provided by Anton Mosimann, whose barbecued spare rib in Cooking with Mosimann (Sunday 16th, 10.00am) is sure to get you licking your lips.

Finally, enjoy A Taste of the Caribbean when Dorinda Haffner visits Cuba (Saturday 15th, 10.00am). Dorinda prepares a feast of barbecued pork and tamales (minced meat with crushed maize and seasonings), before being shown how to roll Cuban cigars. All in all, it promises to be a smokin' weekend for everyone!

Sunday 16th 4.30pm

Tandoori king prawns (serves 4)

Ingredients

450g (1lb) shelled raw king prawns
2 tbsps lemon juice
75g (3oz) plain Greek yoghurt
1 tbsp ginger paste
2 tbsps garlic paste
1 tsp ground aniseed
1 tsp garam masala
½ tsp ground turmeric
½ tsp chilli powder
1 tsp salt or to taste
2 tbsps very finely chopped or minced coriander leaves
1 tbsp finely chopped mint leaves or ½ tsp dried mint
4 tbsps sunflower oil
1 tbsp cornflour

Method

1 Clean the prawns and wash and dry them gently.
2 In a bowl, mix the yoghurt and the remaining ingredients, except oil and cornflour.
3 Add two tablespoons of oil to the marinade and reserve the remainder for later. Pour the marinade over the prawns and mix thoroughly. Cover and set aside for 2-3 hours or overnight in the fridge. Leave the prawns at room temperature for 30 minutes before cooking.
4 Mix the cornflour thoroughly with the marinated prawns. Brush 4 long skewers generously with oil and thread the prawns, leaving approximately ¼ inch gap between each. Cook over hot charcoal on the barbecue for 5-6 minutes, basting with the remaining oil. Alternatively, cook under a pre-heated hot grill (approximately 5 inches below the element) for 5-6 minutes, basting as above.
5 Serve on a bed of green salad with wholemeal rolls.

FA Charity Shield – LIVE
Sky Sports 1 12noon

There's really no close season in football these days. The domestic season ended in May, the World Cup in July and now it's almost time for the Premiership again. The traditional opener from Wembley, the Charity Shield, is always between the league and FA Cup winners, but because Arsenal did the double, second placed Manchester United step in. Some new names – such as United's £10million Dutch World Cup star Jaap Stam – should be on display, so let's hope for an attractive and entertaining start to the season.

CRIMES OF FASHION

What drives Elton John to wear those hairweaves? Why did Spandau Ballet think they'd look cool in their older sisters' mascara? VH1 don't have a clue, but they're showing you all the music biz's worst style crimes anyway in Fashion Victims Day (Thursday 13th). We've rounded up some of the worst offenders – you be the judge ...

LOUD'S TOP 5 STYLE DISASTERS

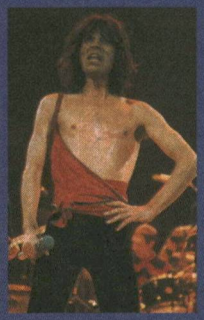
1 BJORK – She's cute, she's elfin, she can sing. So why does she wear the kind of clobber Oxfam turn away at the door?

2 CYNDI LAUPER – Time after time Cyndi just had to show her true colours. Think paint factory explosion and you're on the right track

3 MICK JAGGER – You can't always get what you want, especially in Spandex leggings, eh Mick?

4 MEAT LOAF – A real dead ringer for ... well, a long-haired Bernard Manning, actually

5 KEITH FROM PRODIGY – Mad? Scary? No, not really. More student clown who's failed his final exams



Call the style police! Loud's top of the pop fashion flops in all their, erm, finery (l-r, from top): Bjork, Cyndi Lauper, Mick Jagger, Meat Loaf and Prodigy's Keith

FA Premier League Golf Classic
Sky Sports 1 7.00pm

Forget football. What today's soccer stars really want to do is get out on the golf course. This now-annual golf fest for players and fans (it's easier to get autographs on a fairway than from a terrace) is one of the most popular of its kind. All the top Premiership sides send their three best players to the Whittlebury Park Golf and Country Club, with only pride at stake. Last year the likely lads of Liverpool – Robbie Fowler, Steve Harkness and Neil Ruddock – took the trophy. Good job, because they won nothing else all season!

Reflections of Love

The extravagance of 14 carat gold...

...a full quarter carat of diamonds

In days gone by, diamonds were believed to be splinters of stars which had fallen to earth. Whoever was fortunate enough to possess a diamond, love and devotion was sure to come their way. And the ancient Greeks believed that the 'fire' of a diamond, seen when light passes through the many facets of a cut stone, reflected the constant flame of love.

Now, inspired by these wondrous stories, Brooks & Bentley is proud to announce Reflections of Love, a magnificent ring to bring you the lustre of 14 carat gold and the timeless appeal of diamonds, a quarter carat in weight to create a stunning new design which will reflect love's infinite passion in the eyes of the one you love. A myriad of glittering pavé diamonds are set into the luxurious gold fingerband to dazzling effect. And for the magnificent centrepiece, a beautiful brilliant cut diamond held in a spectacular claw setting creates an exquisite ring which is simply stunning.

Available from Brooks & Bentley at the issue price of just £395.00* payable in ten interest free monthly instalments, Reflections of Love comes complete with a luxury presentation case and a Certificate of Authenticity. To acquire Reflections of Love, simply complete and return the Commission Authorisation Form by 10th September, 1998. Or telephone our 24 hour Express Order Line on 01732 361122 today. Please send no money now.

Football: Worthington Cup – LIVE
Sky Sports 2 7.30pm
This cup (formerly the Coca-Cola Cup) was rejuvenated last season after Uefa confirmed that the winners would be granted a place in Europe. This is a first round, first leg clash between Third Division Torquay United and First Division Crystal Palace from Plainmoor. The Gulls will be looking to put one over Terry Venables's Eagles.

US PGA Championships – LIVE Sky Sports 2 6.00pm

Once again, the Europeans do battle against those Yankees for the honour of winning the fourth major title of the year, the US PGA. We've never won the event and there's no reason to suggest that anything will change this year. Still, Brits Lee Westwood and Darren Clarke are young enough and strong enough to battle the heat, humidity and partisan American fans to put up a damned good show. The live coverage starts today from the Sahalee Country Club in Washington and our boys really need your support!

The Nationwide League just gets more and more interesting, and this clash between Fulham and Manchester City is a case in point. Kevin Keegan has Mohamed Al Fayed's money and the hopes of west London that he can transfer the Craven Cottage club into one of the country's big boys. Meanwhile, the luckless City at last have a manager who has enough backbone to turn the club around. Selling Georgi Kinkladze was a brave decision by Joe Royle, but he should be able to send them back up the league.

'X-FILES' X-CLUSIVE

AGENTS Mulder and Scully get their cover blown in spectacular fashion this week. For starters, Sky goes Inside The X-Files for a one-hour special which lifts the lid on the agents' extraterrestrial investigations, interviewing David Duchovny, Gillian Anderson and series creator Chris Carter. There's also an unusually light-hearted look at some of the actors' bloopers and a chance to catch a glimpse of The X-Files: Fight the Future, which opens at cinemas nationwide on Friday.
Sky One Sunday 16th 8.00pm

ALL FRIGHT ON THE NIGHT!

IF WHOOPI GOLDBERG was surprised to discover that she really did have psychic powers in Ghost, Michael J Fox gets an even nastier shock in The Frighteners, a comic horror film by acclaimed director Peter Jackson. Fox plays a swindling psychic, Bannister, who's in league with a trio of ghosts. He offers services to the public such as contacting the spirits of the dead and exorcism. All he does, however, is send his three ghost pals – Judge, Cyrus and Stuart – to haunt houses and then 'exorcises' them from the residence. But then he arrives in a town billed as the mass murder capital of America, just when a new series of deaths is occurring. It's not long before Fox becomes the prime suspect and he's faced with the grim prospect of dying (albeit temporarily) and going to the 'other side'. Stand by for lots of things going bump in the night.

ROCK OF AGES

ELVIS PRESLEY died 21 years ago this month, and to mark the anniversary of the King's death TNT Classic Movies is screening some of his films. Between 9.00pm on Saturday and 5.00am on Monday morning, you'll be able to see no fewer than eight movies from the hip-swivelling legend. Elvis actually made 33 films in the space of 16 years, although thankfully TNT have exercised some quality control. So we can see the likes of Jailhouse Rock (pictured), in which a young Elvis plays an ex-con who finds pop stardom; Viva Las Vegas, with Ann-Margret, sees Elvis playing a racing driver having some fun in the gambling capital; Spinout has Elvis playing a racing driver (again!) who's trying to escape the attention of various women with designs on him; and Elvis on Tour offers a celluloid record of the King's 1972 American tour and many of his classic hits.

International Rugby Union – LIVE
Sky Sports 3 2.00pm

The English, Scots, Welsh and Irish have been pounded in the southern hemisphere this summer as Australia, South Africa and New Zealand have taken it in turns to use us as punchbags. Now it's time to see them slug away at each other.

This afternoon, the Springboks take on the All Blacks at King's Park, Durban, in a Tri-Nations encounter which will really show us Europeans how to play the game. With the World Cup coming up next year, this is one of the last chances for two of the best sides in the world to test themselves.

Monday Night Football – LIVE
Sky Sports 1 7.00pm

The first Monday night of the Premiership season sees reigning champions Arsenal entertain last season's winners of the Nationwide League, Nottingham Forest. The Gunners began slowly last year and will no doubt have several players still with a post-World Cup hangover, while Forest should be bright and snappy under charismatic boss Dave Bassett. Home advantage should be enough to see Arsenal through, though, in what promises to be an open, attacking game for the likes of Anelka and Van Hooijdonk.

One-Day International – LIVE
Sky Sports 1 10.30am

Not content with letting the South Africans whip us once in a one-day series this summer, we're prepared to let them do it again just a few months later! Hansie Cronje's men have been more than a match for England's cricketers in limited overs matches, especially with the likes of Jonty Rhodes in the field. The early season experiment of a limited overs captain – Adam Hollioake – and a slew of all-rounders like Mark Ealham and Matthew Fleming didn't work, so can England turn things round now?

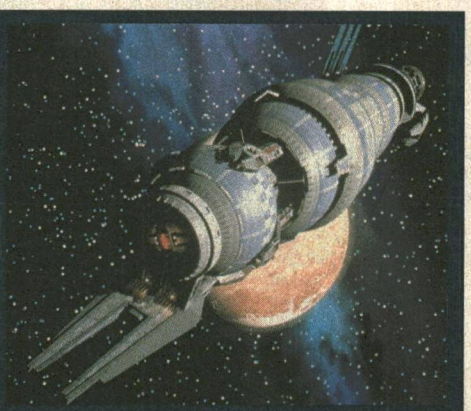
YOUR GUIDE TO OUT-OF-THIS-WORLD SHOWS ON CABLE. WORDS: PATRICK HOLM

'IT WAS THE DAWN OF THE THIRD AGE OF MANKIND'



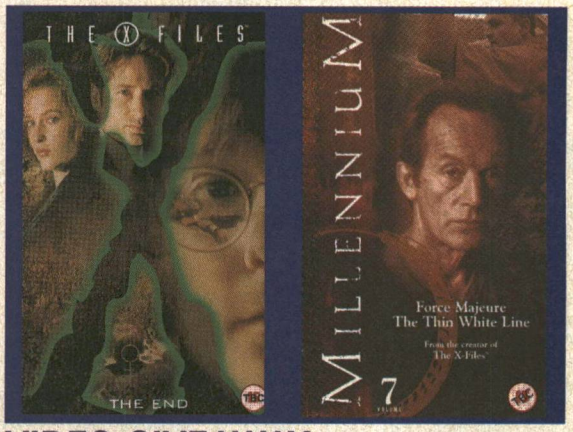
Six years ago, a pilot appeared for a series which, despite all the odds stacked against it, has continued for five seasons on American television and comes to the Sci-Fi Channel this month. Telling the story of the titular space station, its inhabitants and visitors, Babylon 5 has turned out to be far more than just the usual action series in space.

Its creator, J Michael Stracynski, always had a five-year plan in mind for the series and one of the intriguing aspects of the show is the way in which small, seemingly unimportant, events from the first season turn out to be cataclysmically important three or four years later.

Set in the 23rd century, Babylon 5 is a neutral ground where members of opposing races can meet without fear. But it's also the focus for a much larger conflict between all the races of the galaxy and the mysterious Shadows, whose presence grows as the weeks go by. Nobody's motives are entirely clear, nothing is as it seems.

Babylon 5 benefits from its strong cast, led by Michael O'Hare as Commander Sinclair in the first season, and Bruce Boxleitner as Captain Sheridan from the second year on. Hiding under prosthetics are Peter Jurasik as Centauri Ambassador, Londo Mollari and Andreas Katsulas as his opponent, Narn Ambassador G'Kar, as well as Yugoslav actress Mira Furlan as Minbari Ambassador Delenn. Backing up the Earth's representatives are Security Chief Michael Garibaldi (Jerry Doyle) and Commander Susan Ivanova, played by Claudia Christian, who is introducing the series on Sci-Fi Channel.

Sci-Fi Channel, weekdays from Monday 3rd, 9.00pm



VIDEO GIVEAWAY

We've got five fantastic sets of videos up for grabs this month, courtesy of Twentieth Century Fox. The final X-Files episode of series five, The End, comes with Inside The X-Files, a behind-the-scenes look at the show. And this new Millennium video release features two chilling episodes – Force Majeure and The Thin White Line. If you'd like to try to win one of the sets, containing both videos, answer this question:

WHO IS THE CREATOR OF 'THE X-FILES' AND 'MILLENNIUM'?

Send your answer on a postcard, with your name and address, to August Sci-Fi Competition, Cable Guide, 172 Tottenham Court Road, London W1P 0JJ to reach us by 31 August. The first five correct entries drawn at random win. Usual rules apply.

CAPTAIN POWER

Starring: Tim Dunigan (Captain Jonathan Power), Peter MacNeill (Major Matthew 'Hawk' Masterson), Sven-Ole Thorsen (Lieutenant Michael 'Tank' Ellis), Maurice Dean Wint (Sergeant Robert 'Scout' Baker) Jessica Steen (Corporal Jennifer 'Pilot' Chase), David Hemblen (Lord Dread)

If you think you've heard the name Babylon 5 mentioned before on the Sci Fi Channel, you're not mistaken. Ten years ago, Captain Power (a series worked on heavily by Babylon 5 creator J Michael Stracynski), also featured the name – this time for the genetic colony from which one of Captain Power's soldiers of the future came.

Launched to tie in with a range of toys, this 22-part series went beyond the normal 'kid's market' show, with serious efforts made by Stracynski as story editor, alongside Lawrence DiTillio as one of the main writers, to make the characters at least two, if not three dimensional.

The show followed the adventures of Captain Power's small unit of human soldiers, survivors of the Metal Wars. They led an underground resistance against the evil Lord Dread and his monstrous creations the Bio-Dreads, who were designed to hunt down human survivors and digitise them. Sadly, the series was brought to a premature close when the toys failed to sell well. It was a brave but ultimately doomed attempt to make a grown up kid's show.

A brand new collection of hand crafted and decorated thimbles that build into a beautiful chess set...

The Game of Kings
THIMBLE COLLECTION

Known as the 'Game of Kings', chess has been played for centuries... and thimbles have been decorated for at least as long. Now, for the first time ever, Mayfair Edition have brought the two together to create a beautiful and unusual thimble collection.

King (shown right)
This fine thimble has 3 different pictures of Kings around it... each wearing authentic reproduction robes from a different era... King Arthur, a Medieval King and typical Georgian Garter Robes.

Queen (shown far right)
Again, the thimble carries 3 different pictures... a 16th century Tudor Queen... an early French Queen and an Arthurian Queen (not shown).

Bishop
The robes worn are medieval, early 1800's and Arthurian (not shown).

Knight
The Knight pictured is one of a pair on the thimble charging headlong at each other in a medieval joust.

Display case on reverse of chess board may be wall mounted or free standing. Measures 290mm x 290mm x 30mm deep.

Each thimble is hand crafted in English Fine Bone China, beautifully decorated by the pottery's own artists and then hand embellished with real 22 ct gold.

This collection is exclusive to Mayfair Edition, and is not available in any shop.

This collection is available in a strictly limited edition, and each thimble is accompanied by a signed Certificate of Authenticity and an explanation of the pictures it carries.

Each thimble is sent on 15 days home approval.

The unusual and beautiful display case has a chess board on one side, and may be reversed to provide a wall mounted or free standing display... it is Free, and will be sent with your fourth shipment.

Special HALF PRICE introductory offer

Seeing is believing, and to convince you that this landmark collection will prove a source of much pleasure in the years to come, we will send you the first two pieces on 15 days home approval and an invoice for only one... just £9.95 (+ £1.95 p&p). If you are not delighted with your pieces return them to us and owe nothing. Otherwise simply pay the invoice and we will send you a new piece every month always at the same price and on the same home approval basis until your collection is complete. You may cancel your collection at any time.

KEEP COOL & COMFORTABLE FOR LESS THAN 1P A DAY!

The NEW Super Air Cooler – Just £14.99 (+p&p)

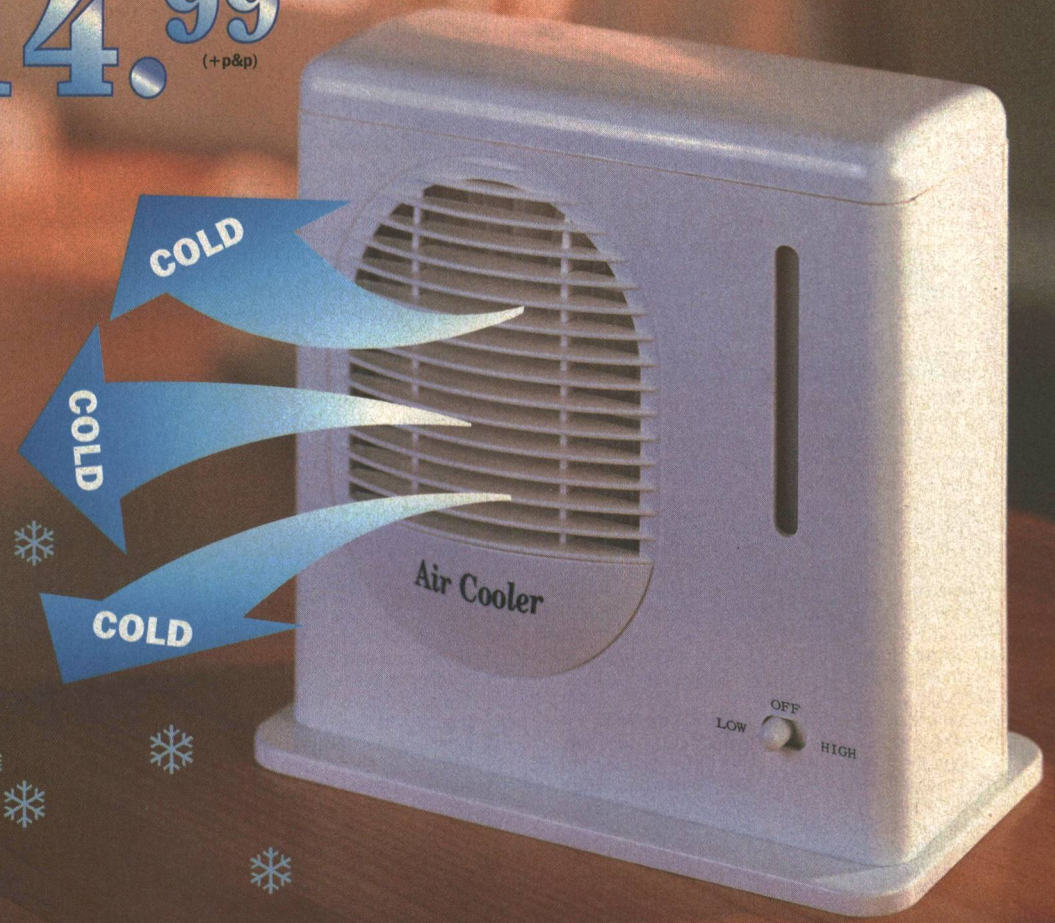
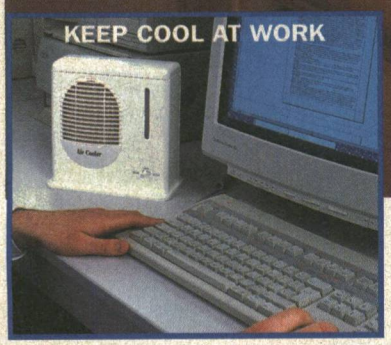
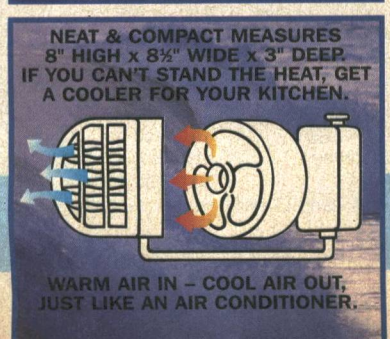
- Ideal for home and office
- Cool down caravans and cars
- 2 speed – high and low controls
- Costs less than 1p to run for 24 hours
- Warm air in – cool air out, just like an air conditioner







NEAT & COMPACT MEASURES
8" HIGH x 8½" WIDE x 3" DEEP.
IF YOU CAN'T STAND THE HEAT, GET A COOLER FOR YOUR KITCHEN.
WARM AIR IN – COOL AIR OUT, JUST LIKE AN AIR CONDITIONER.

This brilliant little machine was developed to cope with very hot climates in the USA, Australia and Europe. It has proved its worth a million times over.

The air cooler plugs into the mains (adaptor plug supplied) or into the 12v power outlet in a car or caravan (plug and lead supplied).

As the fan blows warm air over the water filled elements inside the machine, the evaporation process reduces the temperature and a cool air-stream results. The benefit is immediate and as invigorating as a sea breeze.

For a rapid 'cool down' the high setting is ideal. When you are comfortable the low setting will keep you cool.

The power consumption is just 4w on high and 3w on low. Running costs are less than 1p a day! Please order today and we will deliver to your home without delay.

ADVANTAGE KOURNIKOVA

FOR SOMEONE who has yet to win a major title, Russian tennis prodigy Anna Kournikova has attracted an enormous amount of media attention. The Florida-based 17-year-old had to miss this year's Wimbledon with a thumb injury but should be fit to play in the US Open, which starts at New York's Flushing Meadow on Monday. With over 5000 pages on the internet allegedly dedicated to her, Anna will not be short of support from the crowd, but rumours about her strained relations with other players on the tour may mean that love on court will be confined to the umpire's pronouncements.

POLAR EXPEDITION

THERE'S cold comfort for lovers of snowy landscapes when Frozen Kingdom delves into the cold waters and lands of the Arctic and Antarctica. Stunning cinematography showcases a range of memorable images: from massive white glaciers and killer whales to foraging polar bears and comical emperor penguins slipping and sliding across the ice. Chills and thrills are guaranteed.
Discovery Channel Sunday 30th 9.00pm

SIBLING RIVALRY

BLOOD may be thicker than water, but in She's the One that blood is in danger of being spilled as two brothers clash over women. Edward Burns (pictured left) and Mike McGlone (right) play Mickey and Francis Fitzpatrick, siblings leading happy, contented lives until they meet girls who just may be the woman of their dreams. And that's when things really get complicated ... Francis is married to his college sweetheart, Renee (Jennifer Aniston, second from right), but then meets Heather (Cameron Diaz, centre), a woman with a past that involves Mickey. And Mickey's current happy state of bachelorhood is undermined when he meets a stunning young graduate (Maxine Bahns, second from left and Burns's former girlfriend in real life). At the centre of all the brotherly bickering is their father, Mr Fitzpatrick (John Mahoney, best known as Frasier's dad, Martin, in the successful Seattle-based sitcom), whose homespun philosophising about women only succeeds in making matters worse!

SPORT

Motorcycling – LIVE
Eurosport 12noon

This is one of the closest ever motorcycling seasons, which will make this weekend's Czech Republic Grand Prix a scorcher. The track has a reputation for close races, well illustrated by the 1996 500cc race in which Alex Criville of Spain took the race from Michael Doohan by two thousandths of a second (equivalent to a distance of five centimetres). I'd have called it a dead heat, given them a beer and told them to try another lap to sort it out! Doohan won here last year and will face a tough challenge from his nearest rival, Italy's Max Biaggi.

A unique Steiff bear

A special bear

Hamish is no ordinary bear...in fact, he's one of the best bears you can find. He is made by Steiff, the inventors of the teddy and the makers of the most sought-after bears in the world. Every lover of teddy bears will want Hamish, and he's available only from Danbury Mint.

The Steiff commitment to excellence

Margarete Steiff said about her bears 'only the best is good enough for our children'. Her company continues that tradition to this day. Each bear is hand-made from the finest mohair, the beautiful and valuable coat of the angora goat. And his expressive little face is no accident – a skilled Steiff craftsman has invested time and love in bringing Hamish to life. Tilt him, and he has a friendly growl! He also has the famous Steiff button in his ear – your guarantee that Hamish is a real Steiff masterpiece!

He's irresistible

It's cold outside! But Hamish the bear is ready for the worst winter weather, He's cosy and warm in his smart new tartan hat and scarf. Just look at those dark trusting eyes, that cheerful face...stroke his genuine mohair fur. He's irresistible, and now he can be yours!

An exclusive offer – a no-quibble guarantee

Hamish can be obtained exclusively from Danbury Mint. For your convenience, payment is in five interest-free instalments of £34 (plus postage and handling), remarkable value for a teddy bear of this quality and charm. Hamish also has three adorable friends. He is the first of the Steiff Four Seasons Bears. As the owner of Hamish, you will have the opportunity, without obligation, to collect the other three bears.

Actual height of the bear is standing 13¾", sitting 10¼".

We are so confident that you will be delighted with Hamish, we are offering a full money-back guarantee. If you are not completely satisfied, simply return your bear within thirty days for a replacement, or full refund.

SPORT

One Day Cricket – LIVE
Sky Sports 1 5.00pm
Another evening experience from the AXA Life League comes from Gloucestershire, where Somerset are the visitors and the ground should be packed to the rafters for a local derby. The home side are captained by Mark Alleyne, with the support of Jack Russell, who can turn any kind of ball into any kind of run with any kind of shot. Somerset are a mixed bag these post-Botham and Richards days. They rely on the batting of Mark Lathwell and the bowling of Mushtaq Ahmed, but at least their supporters are still top drawer.

STAR OF THE MONTH

MADONNA

BACKGROUND: It's the big 4-0 for the former Material Girl this month. Born Madonna Louise Veronica Ciccione on 16 August 1958, one of the world's most enduring stars started her career scratching out a living in New York in the mid-Seventies – she once worked in a doughnut shop. An icon of the Eighties and Nineties, she has constantly re-invented herself, but is perhaps most remembered for wearing that metallic conical bra.

FAMOUS FOR: Apart from phenomenal record sales (her 22 albums have sold around 115million copies worldwide), she has also carved a successful movie career. Most recently seen on the big screen as Eva Peron in Evita, she is due to star in the film version of the hit musical Chicago.

SEE HER IN: Madonna Day, VH1, Saturday 15th. Madonna 40th Birthday Special, MTV, Saturday 15th, Sunday 16th.

SPORT

International Cricket
Sky Sports 1 8.00pm
It's sometimes less painful to watch English cricket as a highlights programme in the evening than sit there and have your whole day ruined in front of the TV watching it live. OK, so I'm being a little pessimistic about today's England v Sri Lanka encounter from the Oval, but you know what I mean. The Sri Lankans have brought such joy and innovation to the limited overs game that you can never begrudge them another victory, but let's hope that for once our lads can show their true Brit grit and turn the tables in this Test match.

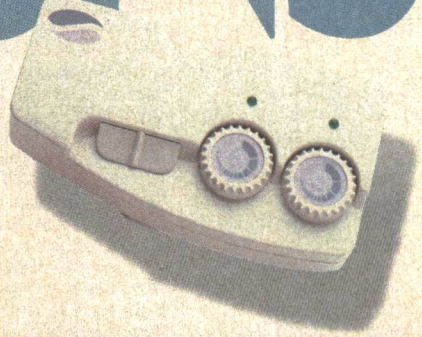
Help



Transcutaneous Electrical Nerve Stimulation (TeNS) control of pain relies on the "gate theory" first put forward in the 1950's by British neuroanatomist Patrick Wall and Canadian psycho physiologist Ronald Melzack. Following 10 years of research Wall and Melzack concluded that one type of nerve fibre carries the "hurt" or pain message to the brain, while a second thicker type of nerve fibre is capable of acting in a contradictory way by blocking out (or erecting a gate to) the "hurt" signal, thereby preventing its transmission to the brain.

Research studies show that TeNS produces an intense stimulation which activates an area of the brain which, in turn, inhibits the pathways that transmit pain signals. Although it is not a cure, TeNS is now accepted by the medical profession as being of significant benefit to many in controlling most kinds of physical pain, and is now employed with increasing success in NHS Hospitals and Clinics throughout the UK.

When pain cuts like a knife

For the countless millions suffering pain due to sports injuries, muscle strains, joint problems, period pains or other causes, the TeNS approach to pain management and control offers an ideal, non-invasive, drug free approach to living a normal life.

TeNS has a remarkably wide range of applications: Neck • Spine • Waist • Shoulders • Elbows • Wrists • Hips • Knees • Ankles • Feet

While it is important to stress that TeNS is not suitable for everyone (specifically those who suffer heart disease or who have a pacemaker fitted) TeNS has proved beneficial in alleviating pain for the vast majority of users.

Shire Design are one of the largest manufacturers of TeNS units in Europe and are at the forefront of research and development. Shire TeNS have a range of competitively priced (£50 to £100), easy to use, discreet, compact home units to suit every pocket and situation. Shire TeNS units are supplied to and used by Hospitals and Clinics.

These are genuine extracts from letter received from Shire Design customers. The originals are available for inspection in their offices, along with many others.

"I annually award my own New Year honour to the best thing that has happened to me during the previous year and without a shadow of doubt I award this to your magnificent TeNS apparatus for the outstanding – not to say "UP-STANDING" – improvement it has made to my life."

N. Richards, Merseyside.

"Reference the Sigma machine I purchased from you some time ago, I am pleased to say it has given me so much pain relief that I am now able to walk about, and cover several miles."

R. Whitton, Northampton.

"It works, it really works. When it arrived, I took one look at it and thought, what a waste of time. After 3 days I tried it out and it has transformed my life."

L.J. Davidson, Worcester.

"I am writing to let you know how delighted I am with my Sigma TeNS it has brought me great relief and I do not have to take pain tablets any more I just use my TeNS."

J.W. Whalley, Lancs.

Friday Night Football – LIVE
Sky Sports 2 7.00pm
What a mouthwaterer! The manager so many England fans love to hate, Graham Taylor, has put Watford back into Division One of the Nationwide League and tonight they entertain Wolves, who should have been Taylor's ticket back to the big time a few seasons ago. Over-achieving at an under-expecting club is Taylor's forte and he passed the poisoned chalice of Wolves' guardianship to Mark McGhee, who has had little success either. Taylor's experience should make Watford hard to beat at Vicarage Road.

The International Library of Poetry has just announced that it is sponsoring an International Amateur Poetry Competition in the United Kingdom and Ireland. There will be eight competitions this year open to all amateur poets. Entry to the competitions is free and there is no purchase requirement to win one of 70 prizes, including a £1,000.00 Grand Prize.

How to Enter

Anyone may enter the competition simply by sending in only one original poem, any subject, any style, to:

The International Library of Poetry
Dept. 9665
FREEPOST LON 2229

Kent ME10 3BR
(No stamp required)

(Please note this address is for poems only, all enquiries must be sent to the address below.)

The poem should be no more than twenty lines, must be typed or neatly printed, and the poet's name and address must appear at the top of the page. Poems must be the original work of the submitting author and will not be returned. Closing date for applications is the last day of this month. Any entries received after this date will be submitted in the following competition. All poets who enter will receive an acknowledgement, along with complete competition rules, within nine weeks.

How to Win

All the poems entered into the competition will be judged on originality, use of language, poetic style, creativity, and artistic expression. In addition to the £1,000.00 Grand Prize, ten Second Prizes of £50.00 each, and 59 Third Prize gifts with a £28.00 value will also be awarded. All 70 prize winners will be featured in a beautiful, hardbound anthology to be published at the conclusion of the competition. And what's more, non-winners may guarantee publication of their poem in this beautiful edition through their purchase of a copy (a pre-publication discount will be available). Tennis: US Open – LIVE
Sky Sports 3 3.30pm

Fresh from his gripping five-set victory over Goran Ivanisevic at Wimbledon, Pete Sampras will be looking to add another major to his collection when the US Open starts at Flushing Meadow this afternoon. It was here, of course, that Greg Rusedski really established himself as a world power last year, finishing runner-up to Australia's Pat Rafter after losing in four sets. Greg will be looking to go one better this year, injury permitting. Britain's other hope is Tim Henman, who needs to build on his strong Wimbledon performances.

One reader thinks 'Highlander' hero Stan Kirsch has star potential

World beaters
NOW the World Cup tournament is over, I feel I must write to congratulate Eurosport on its coverage, especially on live matches. While the BBC is at least acceptable, I find the inane witterings of the ITV commentators and their so-called experts mind-destroying. Unfortunately there were games where I had very little option and just had to grit my teeth and suffer. Keep up the good work, Eurosport, and more power to your elbow.

History lesson
WHILST watching a programme on Egypt on the Travel channel on Monday 22 June at 6.30pm [On Tour], I noticed the presenter made a mistake. She was talking about the temple at Abu Simbel and said that one of the statues was that of Nefertiti, Queen of Rameses II. I would just like to point out that Nefertari was Rameses's queen, Nefertiti was Akhenaton's queen. I would also like to say how much I enjoy watching Travel – it shows me many places I am unlikely to visit.

Those were the 'Days'
OVER the past two years, I have become addicted to the daytime soap Days of Our Lives. How terrible I then felt when I read the July issue of Cable Guide and saw that Days of Our Lives is to be taken off the air. Why is Sky replacing Days of Our Lives with The New Adventures of Superman? What explanation does Sky have for its disgusting treatment of a great show?

Yousuf M Khan
Ilford

● Sky replies: 'We have changed our daytime programmes for the school holidays and, at the moment, do not know when Days of Our Lives is coming back into the Sky schedule.'

In a Friendzy
I AM a huge fan of the sitcom Friends and would like to thank Sky One for all those hours of enjoyment during the World Cup. I have watched every episode of this side-splitting programme, but was totally distraught at the cliffhanging ending of the last series where Ross and Emily were getting married. Please, please tell me if there is another series, and if so, when it will be screened?

Nadine Scott
South Shields

● Sky replies: 'The new series of Friends starts in January 1999.'

Highlander fling
I LOVE the show Highlander on Sky One every Friday [8.00pm] and never miss an episode, mainly because Stan Kirsch – who plays Richie Ryan – is in it. I can safely say he is the most gorgeous guy to grace Cable TV screens in recent years. I was hoping you could make him your star of the month. Please!

Jade Gill
Poole

Great Scott!
I WOULD just like to say how much I am enjoying the series of Quantum Leap on the Sci-Fi Channel [daily at 8.00pm]. I missed most of this series when it was first shown in the early Nineties. Scott Bakula is such a wonderful actor and so versatile that it seems a pity that we don't see him in anything any more. I hope he has got lots of work and is not a struggling actor nowadays.

Mrs PM Parry
Waterlooville, Hampshire

● Scott is a far from struggling actor. As well as a steady stream of TV movies, he's also appeared in such films as Sibling Rivalry, Color of Night and, most recently, Major League: Back to the Minors.

Out of time
ACCORDING to June's Cable Guide, the World Cup final is the 'last major sporting event of the century'. It is not! The Olympics in 2000 are. The new century and millennium do not actually start until 1 January, 2001. The year 2000 is the last year of the current century and millennium, a fact that seems to have escaped the attention of virtually everybody in the world.

G Wainwright
Pudsey, South Yorkshire

● Congratulations! You win our £5 prize.

Repeats please!
I AM a great fan of Xena: Warrior Princess and have recently found out that the series is coming to an end. I am dying to know when the new series will begin and also if Sky will show any repeats – I think series two could be shown again as that was great!

Miss Emma Bell
Burnley

● Sky replies: 'Repeats of Xena: Warrior Princess are showing throughout the summer. The next series starts in early 1999.'

Pacific heights
I AM a huge fan of Hawaii Five-0. I enjoyed the series when it was first shown in the Seventies and I'm enjoying it just as much now. I do hope Granada Plus will be showing many more episodes. I have heard that CBS in America are in the process of making a new series, although I don't think it would ever be the same without Jack Lord. Whoever they pick for the part of Steve McGarrett, no one could play that character the way he could. He was brilliant. I am saving hard to go to Hawaii next year so I can visit all the places featured in the different episodes.

Elisha Stevens

Able cable
AS A previous subscriber to satellite broadcasting, I switched to cable as soon as our area was linked up to a cable outlet, and am pleased I did, since I think the quality of reception is better, especially when it's raining. I am also very impressed with the monthly Cable Guide, which is both informative and easy to follow. I would be grateful if you could answer a couple of questions:
1 Have UK Gold any plans to show Miami Vice again in its entirety?
2 Will there be a new series of Nash Bridges on Sky One and, if so, when will it be screened?

David Nelson
Newton-Le-Willows, Merseyside

● Sadly, UK Gold won't be screening any more episodes of Miami Vice and there will be no more series of Nash Bridges on Sky One.

Does 'Bloody Foreigners' create an 'inaccurate picture' of Germany?

Foreign correspondent
I AM a German who has been living in Britain for the last two years and after watching Sky One's Bloody Foreigners on Germany [Sunday 28 June], I feel offended rather than entertained. Sending a person to another country to report on life there certainly does not work when the reporter is narrow-minded and not interested in reality. The programme calls butcher students 'sausage students'; to ridicule Germany's favour for sausages is hardly appropriate. And as for the idea of a 'sausage student' being the most respected profession in Germany! Should I think that being a chip-maker is the best you can be here in England? I'm not only offended because I'm German, but because Sky One is portraying an inaccurate picture, hiding behind the word journalism. I'm afraid I cannot see the funny side.
